Danny Luu is a London-based DJ who has spent over two decades doing what he loves most — making people move. His sets are built on driving basslines that hit you in the chest and won't let go, pulling the whole room together and keep it locked in for hours. Whether he's warming up a venue or going deep into the night, Danny reads a crowd instinctively, adjusting and building with a natural ease that only comes from years on the floor.

What sets Danny apart is the energy he brings. He's not standing behind the decks looking down — once he puts on his headphones, he is in the zone, genuinely feeling every tune. That passion is contagious — crowds feed off it. His tune selection sits at the heart of it all, picking tracks that feel right in the moment rather than just going through a pre-planned playlist.

Danny loves creating DJ mixes, sharing with his followers around the globe.
